

Thank you for your interest in Xtrememotorsports99 and our work on the Road-to-Indy eSeries.

Series Information and Links:

The full press release about the RicmotoTech Road to Indy Presented by Cooper Tires iRacing eSeries is here: <https://www.indylights.com/news>

You can watch the races live on Saturdays with the online pre-show broadcast kicking off at 12:45pm eastern time and the race taking the green flag at 1:00pm eastern time. Viewing is available on the Road to Indy TV website (<http://www.roadtoindy.tv/>) and App, ApexRacingTV's YouTube (<https://www.youtube.com/user/ApexRacingTV>), Twitter and Facebook, the iRacing eSports Network (<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCUowOZM6lA-tS77XGmuzhbw>) and the series' respective Facebook platforms. Live race coverage will also be featured on MAV TV Motorsports Network Canada.

About Xtrememotorsports99:

Since 2014, Xtrememotorsports99 has been hosting league racing events on iRacing. Our goal is to provide the most realistic virtual racing experience possible for our drivers and spectators. This includes hosting events with an established series-specific rulebook, pre-race drivers' meetings, live race stewards to enforce high-quality racecraft, live online race broadcasts, post-race awards presentations, and prize purses based on sponsor support and driver entry fees.

The road racing side of Xtrememotorsports99 is managed by Kevin C. Ford and Jeff Jacobs. Kevin began sim-racing in 2003 and has been on iRacing.com since 2011. He has built his own extensive sim-racing rig at home. Kevin has professional experience in the broadcasting industry and computer services. Jeff Jacobs has been sim-racing on iRacing.com since 2012. A member of the Sports Car Club of America since 1993, Jeff competes in local and national SCCA autocross events, has served as the Chief Steward of the SCCA's Solo National Championship events for more than ten years. Jeff is a communications industry attorney in his day job. The oval racing side of Xtrememotorsports99 is managed by founder Rick Donathan and features four different series.

We have the ability to provide a turn-key iRacing-based series for your organization. For more information about our series management services, please contact Kevin Ford at kevin@xtrememotorsports99.com or Jeff at jeffjacobs@xtrememotorsports99.com.

Kevin C. Ford

Jeff Jacobs